JOHN H. LYNDE, - PROPRIETOR

TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1870.

Republican Nominations.

FOR GOVERNOR,

Hon. Sidney Perham

OF PARIS.

FOR REPRESENTATIVES TO CONGRESS.

1st District—Hon. JOHN LYNCH, Portland.
2d District—Hon. WM. P. FRYE, of Lewiston.
3d District—Hon. J. G. BLAINE, of Augusta.
4th District—Hon. J. A. PETERS, of Bangor.

THE WEATHER.

The ubiquitous 'oldest inhabitant' has been kept in a state of perspiring activity during the past few weeks, in responding to calls from all over the country, and frequently turning up in several places at once, to chronicle a blistering series of the hottest days within the indefinite period of his remembrance.

If the spots on the sun, of which so much has been written, have any real existence, they have certainly been on the off side of that luminary of late, and science has experienced a warm refutal of its charges of increasing coolness, which can hardly be preferred consistently by savants compelled to write in their shirt-sleeves, with the mercury dancing up and down in scorching proximity to par.

Such weather as we have lately been favored with, inclines us to regard Mr. Seward's Alaska investment with considerable pleasure, inducing a desire to annex a few ice-bergs on our own account; and we can very readily ascribe the defeat of the President's project for absorbing San Domingo to the inopportune season at which it was brought up for consideration. Imagine, if possible, a gathering of parboiled Senators, fastened inside their air-tight compartment in the Capitol, and, in such weather, who could either calmly or coolly discuss the question of increasing the sum total of national caloric by adding fresh firebrands from the torrid regions of the West Indies.

Such a sultry project should be reserved for a winter session, when, perhaps, the Maryland delegation could secure its adoption as a substitute for the repeal of the coal tariff; but just now, a few thousand of Greeland's icy mountains would be more likely to receive a general 'all hail.'

A doubtful Washington special gives a conversation between the President and a Senator upon the contemplated changes in the foreign missions and Cabinet. Wendell Phillips' name was mentioned in connection with the Mission to England, for Berlin and for Secretary of State. George H. Marsh, Senator Conkling, Caleb Cushing and Gen. Butler were spoken of in a friendly spirit.—In view of the opposition of Senators Sumner and Wilson and members of the New England delegation in Congress to the removal of Mr. Motley, it was thought that no objection could be urged against Mr. Phillips from that quarter; that he was a representative American, not likely to be influenced by English peculiarities; that he was well known in England and appreciated for his acknowledged ability everywhere and would at once take a leading rank among diplomatists.

The markets of London and Liverpool were affected on Monday for the first time since the opening of the Hohenzollern question. A large share of the present uneasiness is ascribed to the approaching settlement and the expectations of bankers in contracting their accommodations. Breadstuffs are firmer, and there is an advance in American wheat. The excitement is generally increasing, particularly in monied circles, and all securities have declined heavily.

Venezuela advices state that Gen. Hernandez has sailed from Curacoa with four armed vessels to blockade Porto Cabello and Laguayra. He has opened the port of Maracaibo, declared closed by Blanco, and several European vessels have entered unmolested. Blanco fired upon a Dutch war vessel off Laguayra, recently, mistaking it for a Government steamer. Hernandez has issued a proclamation, allowing vessels coming from the United States to enter Porto Cabello and Laguayra.

Ex-Alderman Florence Scannel of New York, died Sunday evening from the effects of a wound received in the election quarrel of December 3d. He made an anti-mortem deposition, charging Thomas Donohue with firing the fatal shot. Donohue was arrested with a party of young rowdies, all under 20 years of age, early Sunday morning, as they entered a lager beer saloon in 43d street, and after refusing to pay for the drinks commenced stoning the house. Jacob Landeler, an inoffensive German, was struck dead. In an hour three of the party were arrested.

There were nineteen proposals for the 5-20 bonds, amounting to $6,270,300 for $2,353,680, purchased by the Government on Monday. The highest price paid 111 45-100, and the lowest 109 38-100. The awards were at from 109 38-100 to 109 91-100. Jay Cooke & Co., offered for the whole sum at 109 90-100.

The principal slave owners of Western Cuba met at the Governor-General's Palace in Havana, on Monday, and discussed the most feasible plan for an early and gradual abolition of slavery throughout the island.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Hon. Noah Davis as U. S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York.

The Republicans of the Second North Carolina district have nominated Joseph Dixon to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman Henton, and Charles R. Thomas for election to the 42d Congress.

A draft was issued on Saturday from the U. S. Treasury Department for $4229 96, the balance of the year's salary of the late Gen. John A. Rawlins, Secretary of War. The money was paid to President Grant, one of the executors of the estate.

George Francis Train lectured at the Bowery Theatre, New York, Saturday night, on "Chinese against Demagogues." He favored Chinese immigration and told the workingmen that politicians were making tools and fools of them on the subject.

Henry Stevens, cashier of the Randolph (Mass.) National Bank, is supposed to have eloped with the wife of Eben Moulton, Jr., causing much excitement in that town. Mrs. Moulton leaves a husband and two young children; Stevens a wife and two children, also young. The affairs of the bank have been investigated and found correct. The parties disappeared Thursday.

Mr. Mundella, M. P., recently, in a speech at Sheffield, told his hearers that he was once dining with a distinguished artist, who said: "A short time since I painted a portrait of Charles Dickens. It was arranged that I should sit in his room while he was at work. He was a most painstaking, industrious, methodical man, and nothing would divert him from the regularity of his habits. I was there for hours, and he sat again and again, and he wrote, as it seemed to me, almost with anguish. I looked in his face and watched the anxiety and care. I saw the blotting and the rewriting of his works, and I was astonished to find how much he owed to his indomitable perseverance."

THE SPANISH QUESTION.

THE PLOT THICKENS—WAR DECLARED IMMINENT.

London, July 11. A crisis is imminent on the Continent. Military preparations were going on all last night in Paris. If the candidature of Leopold is not withdrawn in twenty-four hours the French Ministers will be recalled from Berlin and Madrid and war declared. The conduct of France in forcing this issue and refusing to leave the question of the throne to the Spanish people, is strongly condemned by all Europe, and Prussia's calm and dignified position is approved. The negotiations between Paris and Ems are reported as unsatisfactory. Prussia declaring innocence of intrigue and refusing to interfere with the candidacy of Hohenzollern, on the ground that she has neither the right, power nor inclination to dictate to Spain or Leopold. Napoleon proposes to meet the issue now rather than after Prince Leopold is elected by the Spanish people, as he bases the claims of his own dynasty on the popular vote. A large party in France counsel suspension of action until the meeting of the Cortes. The general belief is that the Emperor is determined to fight and will [illegible] without giving Prussia time [illegible].

The London Telegraph of [illegible] says, "The war panic [illegible] only the men that are known to [illegible] the Emperor's confidence are selling out."

The Times says, "Almost [illegible] to impress France with the [illegible] pretensions and susceptibilities [illegible] of real danger. Eventually [illegible] probable, yet such jealousy [illegible] without concessions, as in [illegible] the balance of power is [illegible] thought; the real issue is to [illegible] the left bank of the Rhine [illegible] would last until one of the [illegible] exhausted. Civilization has everything to lose in such a struggle. France [illegible] wrong. Prussia denies the [illegible] France ascribes to her, and [illegible] accept the disclaimer. How [illegible] to any arrangement that [illegible] within her own competence, [illegible] powers must act instantly [illegible] vent, if possible, a collision."

The same paper deplores the [illegible] inflicted on French credit by [illegible] indecision.

Plymouth, July 11th.—Seventy [illegible] sailing at anchor [illegible] received orders yesterday to proceed to-day to Gibraltar. To-day those orders were countermanded, and the vessels will visit Cherbourg immediately.

Paris, July 11th.—The Official announces that it will no longer try to the movement of troops, the other journals to adopt a similar course. The city is greatly excited.

The "Constitutional" says that to-day that the King of Prussia will [illegible] the candidature of Hohenzollern.

The "Journal" says that in the event the Emperor will command in person. Prince Imperial attached to his staff.

Berlin, July 11th.—The semi-official journals this morning state that France, in her insults to Prussia, in connection with the Hohenzollern project, Spain was adopted as a cat's paw to [illegible] Napoleon prompting. The North German Parliament has been summoned to meet on answer.

The reports previously [illegible] the naval preparations at the [illegible] unfounded. There is no truth in the report of the Prussian navy [illegible] Constantinople. [illegible] Prussia seems to be confident everywhere.

Madrid, July 11th.—The Republican [illegible] viewed its declaration that the Hohenzollern was dictated by [illegible] France.

The republican newspapers [illegible] armament for the present crisis, [illegible] an immediate [illegible] assists that [illegible] to force [illegible] Alfonzo upon the throne.

THE LAKE SUPERIOR AND [illegible] RAILROAD.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier.

I propose [illegible] a very brief [illegible] the Lake Superior [illegible] and Mississippi [illegible] as the interior [illegible] New England [illegible] more especially [illegible] the State of Maine [illegible] at least, be interested [illegible] to some extent [illegible] proposed to [illegible] this road as [illegible] of Minnesota [illegible] States of the [illegible] and perhaps [illegible] products, [illegible] road and [illegible] lakes to the [illegible] being a [illegible] method of [illegible] ration that [illegible] Milwaukee [illegible] ago.

This road [illegible] minates at St. [illegible] on Lake [illegible] whole distance [illegible] long 158 miles [illegible] for the first [illegible] is nearly [illegible] somewhat to [illegible] and cars are [illegible] des. A large [illegible] engaged in [illegible] the road to [illegible] a distance [illegible] In some [illegible] the grading [illegible] heavy, though [illegible] st of the road [illegible] has been [illegible] ed. Recently [illegible] there was [illegible] six [illegible] keg of powder [illegible] throwing a pile [illegible] by 14 ft., and [illegible] thick, eighteen [illegible] ascending gr[illegible]

The first [illegible] on the road [illegible] St. Paul, is [illegible] White Bear [illegible] where the S[illegible] road make[illegible] There is nearly [illegible] large force [illegible] this point on the [illegible] ater road, [illegible] to the place [illegible] are put three or four buildings [illegible] at Forest Lake, celebrated for [illegible] and a good hotel. Next are passed [illegible] by, Wyoming, North Branch, and [illegible] Sixty-five miles from St. Paul [illegible] City, where is a saw mill, cutting [illegible] of lumber per day. Here is a [illegible] kept by Mr. H. Brackett, formerly [illegible] cot River, and two or three stores [illegible]. Eleven miles farther in is [illegible], where there are extensive saw mills and some manufactories in process of erection. This will probably be the most important place between St. Paul and St. Louis River. Passing Kettle River station, Moose River station, and others of less note, we arrive at the celebrated Dalles of St. Louis. Most of the distance thus far passed over has been through a very level country, partly of rolling prairie and the remainder heavily covered with lumber, of pine and various other varieties of soft wood mixed with various kinds of hard wood.

But here the whole appearance is entirely changed. I cannot otherwise give a good idea of the country in this immediate vicinity as by an extract from a report of Asst. Paul paper who made a trip there very recently.—Says he, 'On arriving at the Dalles we are suddenly brought face to face with a scene of the most rugged and picturesque grandeur.—The slate rocks jut out in ten thousand broken, craggy, irregular shapes. Over utter, hopeless, irredeemable disorder an confusion no one of our party had seen anything to compare with it. It was chaos come again. Talk about your freaks of nature's old one. This is the home of 'Old Freakish' self. He has made this craggy glen his head quarters for a thousand years. Phantasy, to [illegible] all her train of whims, comes here to find rest and satisfaction. And then the river! It has to make a descent of 150 feet in a distance of four miles, and over these rocks and peaks and gorges and shapeless mole of rocks, as an instance of water seeking is lost under difficulties there is nothing like it on this continent. Niagara has its grandeur, smooth and polished as a work of art, making the grand leap with the most decorous precision and beauty; Genesee falls preserve a serene propriety; and our own Falls of St. Anthony, formerly reckoned a sleepy affair in the way of a cataract, has pretty much given up all pretensions to display of any sort. But the St. Louis River in its headlong, mad career over obstructions, beggars all previous descriptions of a torrent. The volume of water is not half so great as the Mississippi at its present stage, but it is chafed, and fretted, and twisted, and lashed into a perfect fury of foam, and having abandoned all hope of forming a graceful and dignified cascade, it gives itself over to rage and the desperation of despair."

It is estimated by many persons that here is the best water power in the country, and that it will soon be improved to a considerable extent, as there are immense forests of pine and hardwood in the vicinity. Near this point are large slate quarries, twelve or fifteen men are already at work quarrying, and it is supposed that the slate will prove of excellent quality.

Duluth is now a very busy city, containing nearly 2,000 inhabitants. Corner lots have fabulous prices asmany think, it is to rival Chicago, whilst others, and I think wiser, judge that for want of proper facilities for a good harbor, and for other reasons, that the future city of the future, upon Lake Superior, is to be at some other point than at this place.

MATTERS AT SARATOGA.

CASTINE, July 11, 1870.

For the last three days the weather has been most excellent. With plenty to do in the house—a very rare case, considering which many invalids, and in general health—and, with the aid of sea-breezes, the [illegible] low [illegible] appreciation of home.—Strangers arrive almost daily, but with all their leisure and determination to enjoy themselves, they fail to derive that constant pleasure which the resident experience.

Yesterday, members of the G. A. R., under Gen. Tilden, accompanied by the Sabbath School in procession, and assisted by the citizens generally, decorated the soldiers' graves. The postponement of this service until the 12th inst. was occasioned in part by the fact that the choicest flowers are now in bloom, and are unlimited in quantity.

Political matters are in a confusion little—It is difficult to tell to which of the four parties a man belongs.

No horrible accidents have occurred—items are scarce. W.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS---SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, July 11.

SENATE.

The credentials of Senators Anthony and Cragin, reelected for six years from the 4th of March next, were presented.

A bill was passed directing the Secretary of War to place at the disposal of the President certain ordnance, to be used in the erection of an equestrian statue of the late Secretary Rawlins.

Bills were passed confirming the titles of purchasers of land sold for taxes in the late insurrectionary States, and granting land in aid of a Railroad from Sioux City, Iowa, to Columbus, Dakota Ter.

Mr. Wilson called up a joint resolution for a breakwater in Orpe Cod harbor. Objections being made it went over.

The following clause has been added to the appropriation for the New York post office buildings and Court House:—"No provisions heretofore enacted shall be construed to prevent the payment of the amount due or to become due under existing contracts and provided further that the total cost of the building shall not exceed the estimates of the plans approved by the Post Master General and Secretary of the Treasury."

The tax bill was received from the House, and Messrs. Sherman, Morrill of Vt., and Hamilton of Md., were appointed a committee of conference.

An appropriation of $20,000, for a fire-proof extension building in Washington, occupied by the office of the War Department, was agreed to—32 to 22, and without finishing the bill, the Senate went into executive session, and after some hours discussion took a recess.

The Senate continued in executive session until 9.40 p. m., when the legislative business was resumed.

Messrs. Morrill of Me., Drake and Stockton were appointed a committee of conference on the naval appropriation bill.

The amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bills from the committee on appropriations were adopted, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

The bill from Mr. Mungen of Ohio, providing a joint committee to inquire into and report the means necessary to arrest the danger of immigration from Chinese countries, either by specific legislation allowing each State to prohibit the residence of Chinamen within its limits, or their total exclusion from the United States and Territories, except to travellers and merchants. Referred.

Mr. Kelsey of N. Y., introduced a joint resolution relative to a harbor of refuge and breakwater at the entrance of the Cape Cod ship canal, but the previous question was not seconded and the resolution went over.

The Senate amendments to the Naturalization bill were concurred in, 133 to 83.

Mr. Butler of Mass., sent to the Clerk's desk and had read a telegram from the New York World charging him with having ejected several hundred negroes from his estates near Hampton Roads. The facts were that these negro families have been turned off from the estate of a rebel where they had been placed in 1864, and that the Representative of that district (Platt) having spoken to him on the subject he told him that as he had paid to have by the foreclosure of a mortgage, a piece of land near Hampstead, it was at the service of the negroes. The negroes that had moved to his place were there now; so that this new paragraph came as near being true as newspaper paragraphs about him usually did.

A bill providing that pork packers, lard venders, those engaged in smoking hams and others known as provision dealers shall not be liable to the internal tax levied on the manufacturer and remitting any such tax assessed and not collected. Passed.

The bill for a pension to Mrs. Lincoln was laid aside, 82 to 22.

The amendments from the Committee on Appropriations were adopted, including one increasing the appropriation for the Court House at Portland, Me., to $20,000.

The Kentucky contested election case of Zeigler against Rice, was decided in favor of the latter, the sitting member, in accordance with the resolution of the minority of the Election Committee.

The Senate amendments to the Naval appropriation bill were concurred in and a Committee of Conference ordered on the remainder.

Mr. Dawes of Mass., from the Com. on Appropriations reported back the Senate joint resolution appropriating $50,000 to pay the expenses of the Indian delegation to Washington.

Mr Fitch of Nevada, opposed the appropriation of money from the public Treasury for the purpose of supplying champagne, cock-tails, boxes at the opera, strawberries and cream and all the luxuries of the season, to a lot of squalid and murderous savages. He would rather have that money expended on furnishing rifles and ammunition to the people of Arizona, who were being scalped at their own doors even in the capital of the Territory.

Mr. Dawes suggested to Mr. Fitch that his lectures should have been given to the Executive before the expense had been incurred, in furnishing rifles and ammunition to the spotted Fawn, would have remained in their native lair till the last syllable of recorded time, before the Executive would have sent for them. He (Dawes) was a supporter of the administration and did not mean to attack it unless such a course was necessary. The resolution was passed 92 to 79.

The resolution of the majority of the Election Committee that Joseph Segar was not entitled to a seat as member at large from Virginia, was adopted after an hour's discussion, and $2500 were appropriated to pay Zeller's expenses in unsuccessfully contesting the seat of Mr. Rice of Kentucky.

A resolution was adopted to print 250,000 copies of the agricultural report for 1869, and pending a motion to go into Com. of the Whole in order to consider the Senate bill appropriating $2,200,000 in aid of the Junction and Breakwater Railroad Company of Delaware, the House adjourned.

CABLE NEWS.

Paris, July 11. The strike at Mulhouse continues and nearly 16,000 workmen remain idle. The manufactory of Messrs. Jourdain there, has been destroyed by fire. Some 2,000 troops have been posted in and around the town, but as yet there have been no serious outbreaks.

A law is to be submitted to the Corps Legislatif prescribing the limits to which the press shall confine itself in publishing the details of military preparations and movements.

Brussels, July 11. The Admiral and officers of the American squadron have arrived here and were warmly received.

Madrid, July 11. At an interview, Saturday, Serrano told Baron Mercier, the French Minister, that as a rule he never interfered with the nominations for the throne, as he desired that it should not be said of him that he wished to retain the Regency, and added that in the affair of Prince Leopold he had acted as in all previous cases.

London, July 11. In the House of Lords this afternoon, Earl Granville said that France having announced her determination to resist the election of Prince Leopold, Her Majesty's government, in connection with other powers, was using every means to preserve peace and restore an amicable understanding. Similar statements were made on the part of the government in the House of Commons to-night.

Mr. Otway, Under Foreign Secretary, said that England had not expressed herself favorably on the selection of Prince Leopold for the Spanish throne, and Mr. Gladstone added that his nomination had taken the government by surprise. France had threatened to proceed to extremities and should she persist in carrying her threat Her Majesty's government would exhaust every means to prevent war upon a case so little warranting it.

The Pal Mall Gazette thinks the case is complicated by the awkward consequences of M. Ollivier's declaration to the Corps Legislatif that France would or would not endure in regard to the nomination of Prince Leopold, it is difficult now for Prussia to withdraw or modify her policy.

Paris, July 11. The forces of the Emperor have besonsent to the frontier.

France will not consent to a Congress of the Powers until Prussia yields on the question of Prince Leopold's candidacy.

Prince Leopold, who is at Ems, is participating in the council of King William and his Ministers and has received the King's consent to his acceptance of General Prim's offer.

London, July 11. The corporation of London has tendered to M. De Lesseps the freedom of the city.

In the House of Commons to-night, Mr. Gladstone said that the government was not prepared to express its sense of the conduct of the Canadian troops during the disturbance on the border.

No confirmation of the reported massacre of Christians in China has yet reached here, either by way of Russia or India. No official reports whatever have been received by either the French or English governments.

The Gov. and Lt. Kedin denies that any correspondence respecting Queen Victoria's or the Pope's visit to members of the Ecumenical Council, and declares that the Holy Father has shown only politeness and forbearance.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 11.

An application for the removal of the monopoly of the Indian telegraph business, granted to the Pacific Telegraph Company, was to-day introduced in the House of Representatives by Mr. Lawrence, of the Committee on Commerce.

The Senate to-day confirmed Samuel A. Duncan as Assistant Commissioner of Patents, and John M. Thacher of Ga., Examiner-in-Chief of the Patent Office, vice M. Fenderson, resigned.

The Confederate Committee on the Funding bill has agreed to provide for the issue of one thousand millions of 30 year bonds at five per cent; three hundred millions of four per cent. Also for a bill for one and a half per cent and two hundred millions of five twenty per cent. This section allowing bonds to the Treasury, limit the interest to two and a half per cent, and all National banks now in or organized, are required to take the new bonds.

The Senate this evening confirmed the following nominations: Thos. Murphy, Collector, Mobile; H. Grinnell, Naval Agent, Thos. H. Hicks, Assistant Treasurer—all of New York.

Murphy's confirmation was opposed by Mr. Pomeroy in a three hours speech to which Mr. Conkling replied, and it was carried by 35, the yeas being Messrs. Pomeroy, Harris and Tipton.

RECOVERED. We learn from Mr. Haines of the Eastern Express, that the bodies of the three men, Art. Tenar and Conley, who were drowned by the upsetting of a boat on the mountain, at July 4th at Island Falls on the W. Branch of the Penobscot, have all been recovered. That of Conley was found a few days after the accident, and the bodies of the two Indians were discovered on Sunday morning at the foot of Grand Falls.

ARRESTED. A young man who has for a number of years past been employed in one of our largest hardware establishments, was arrested yesterday on the charge of abstracting goods from the store at different times for several years. Officer McLaughlin, having a warrant for his person for the theft, went to the store where he is employed, and arrested him. He was taken before Trial Justice Wheeler, and ordered to give bonds in the sum of $500 to appear at the next term of the Supreme Court. In default of bail he was committed to jail. The amount of goods stolen is quite large, and the case will undoubtedly be a very interesting one.

JOSEPH ARRIAN, one of the three men drowned at Island Falls on the West Branch, on July 4th, was Governor of the Penobscot tribe of Indians, the other having resided in Oldtown from his father, Joseph, according to law and custom of the tribe, and the office now devolves on Joseph, Jr., years old, who succeeds him as Governor. The deceased was 65 years of age, was well known as an upright man and was highly esteemed by the members of his tribe. He was also the foremost in Oldtown.

—Mr. Allen is 93 years of age, and has personal knowledge of seven generations from one stock in his ancestral line. He was seven years and six months old when his great grandfather died, and remembers well—was present at his death. The seven generations are as follows:

Sylvanus Allen, his great grandfather, died Oct 1787, aged 93 years, 9 months.

The following curious production, written in five different languages, viz., English, Latin, Greek, French and German, is a delightful jumble, indeed, and worthy of preservation by all collectors of amusing verse:

A REMARKABLE OBITUARY. The following astonishing effusion accompanied a death notice in a recent Milwaukee paper. A little girl of that city has been drowned while playing with pet dog and her schoolmates on the river's bank and while her heart-broken parents and kindred were in the sorest affliction a poetical friend of the family sang through the press:

"O let her claim one pleasant hour with young companions gay;
We see the song
birds onward cour,
And why should she not
play?
With buoyant spirits on she walked,
The pet dog followed near,
And with her neighbor's children talked in accents fond and clear.
When by the waterside they stood,
All joined in time of spry;
With chords
heartin mirth at mood,
The dog chased far and
nigh.
Just at that moment Mollie fell into the rippling stream,
While men were standing
closely by,
With coward hearts, I ween.
One playmate ran and begged of them To render Mollie aid;
These wolves dressed in
the garbs of men,
Were deaf to all she said.
Twice, thrice, she rose, again, again,
The
children cried aloud, 'Save Mollie Thompson' do, good men!' No! No! the monsters vowed!
Poor Mollie stretches her snow white arms:
'Oh! mercy! save me, pray!' These men looked on without alarm!
Then basely sneaked
away.
No! not an effort would they make;
The children scream and run;
Poor Mollie
must as all forsake Before the swelling sun.
The crowd soon more came round the spot,
But not a glimpse was seen.
Is this the place? Is that or not? No mark was left between.
A gallant boy plunged boldly in To rescue, or to try.
Too late! too late! O what a sin!
These feeling children cry.
At length
one of earth's noble men,
Brave Tompkins,
is his name,
Regardless of clothes, or boots, or when,
Dived headlong in the stream,
And
brought Poor Mollie's snow white face To surface of the deep,
Her hair confused and
out of place.
Her eyelids closed in sleep.
The
father at this time ran wild, Bewildered at
the sight;
Unto his bosom pressed his child,
And homeward sped with might.
No pains
were spared to bring her around—Alas! 'twas all in vain!
And she in her own wrapt within her shroud,
no more to play again,
Poor Mollie's
teacher heard the news,
And flocked around
her corse,
The shock did every heart confuse
With anguish and remorse;
The scholars, too
God bless them now!—in sorrow looked dismayed
They strewed sweet flowers on her brow;
And o'er the coffin prayed.
And now
poor Mollie, in thy shed,
We'll bid thee
adieu,
O, may we meet in heaven to tell how one and all loved you!
The parents and the family
For mercy rent the air;
With pang of
sudden agony,
They laid their bosom bare."
